Catena Media celebrates five years and receives "Employer of the Year" award from the industry

Catena Media, celebrating five years in business this October, looks back on a company development characterised by a rapid growth rate, an IPO followed by a change of listing to Nasdaq Stockholm Mid Cap this year, as well as expansion into new markets. All made possible thanks to a strong organisational culture and committed and driven staff. The company has also been awarded "Employer of the Year" in 2017.

In recent days, Catena Media gathered all employees in Malta to jointly celebrate the company's five-year anniversary. Since its inception, the company has undergone a strong and successful growth journey. Following an IPO on First North Premier in February 2016, a change of listing to Nasdaq Stockholm's main market was completed in September this year, a proof of quality and a major milestone in Catena Media's relatively short history. In addition, the company was recently appointed "Employer of the Year" during "iGaming Idol", an event recognising talent within the iGaming industry in Malta. Awarded based upon feedback given by their own team, the accolade is proof of satisfaction of the team at Catena Media.

"We are proud and pleased with what we have achieved during the first five years and look forward to continuing this journey. We have a great culture, relying on hard work, but at the same time having fun together", said Henrik Persson Ekdahl, CEO, Catena Media.

As a result of Catena Media's rapid expansion, the company moved to new top modern premises in London and Belgrade earlier this year. Recently, the firm has also moved the head office in Malta and invested in its own gym and a kitchen that serves healthy dishes to the staff, free of charge. In total, around 250 people from over 30 different countries work at Catena Media.
