

Waystream Broadband World Forum provides Internet for visitors

Waystream, who develops and sells access equipment for fiber-based broadband networks, has a partnership and sponsorship agreement with the Broadband World Forum trade fair which takes place in London in October 2016. The partnership means that Waystream provides access fast- and reliable wireless Internet during the conference.

- Broadband World Forum is an important global meeting places for our industry. It is a forum where we wish to be seen and therefore we have decided to offer fast Internet access for all the attendees. This sponsorship gives us huge exposure to our primary target groups as they connect via our website, says Joana Castelar, Marketing Manager at Waystream.

Broadband World Forum is considered the main conference and exhibition in the broadband industry. For three days, during October 18-20 2016 in the ExCel Exhibition Centre in London, all of the main cable, mobile and fixed telecom operators will meet, as well as many leading technology companies, to discuss the future of broadband. In addition to offering the best wireless connection to attendees, Waystream will also meet with existing, and future customers and partners.
