

Xiaomi teams up with Imint and launches Vidhance®-powered flagship handset Mi MIX 2S

Under a recently signed license- and support agreement with Xiaomi, Imint will provide its Vidhance® software on new smartphone releases from Xiaomi. First flagship product featuring the Qualcomm Snapdragon 845 chipset is the Mi MIX 2S smartphone, which also features video stabilization (EIS) from Vidhance®.

Xiaomi is a Chinese technology company that creates hardware, software, and Internet services, provided at accessible prices. Xiaomi has seen rapid growth and broad market acceptance for its smartphone portfolio and has established a strong position with its camera-oriented premium phones.

The new Mi MIX 2S smartphone with a near bezel less design features the new Qualcomm Snapdragon 845 chipset. Scoring 97 at the DxO Mark, it features a dual lens camera which combines a 12-megapixel wide angle lens with a 12-megapixel telephoto lens and some AI smarts to produce amazing photos and videos.

Imint is a world leading provider of cutting edge video and imaging solutions and the company behind the Vidhance® platform. The foundation of the Vidhance® platform is premium video stabilization, where Imint is seeing strong traction among major smartphone makers.

Andreas Lifvendahl, Imint CEO, comments:

"We have previously communicated that our main market focus is China and it is great to see that our efforts are bearing fruit. Xiaomi is one of the strongest smartphone brands in China, and one of the top 5 players globally. We believe this is a first step towards a solid partnership, where we can continue to support Xiaomi in building innovative smartphones".
