New update adds new license partners and features

Moenchengladbach/Germany, November 30, 2017 – astragon Entertainment GmbH and weltenbauer. Software Entwicklung GmbH are very happy to announce the newest big update for popular Construction Simulator 2 on iPhone® and iPad® as well as smartphones and tablets using Android™ today. In addition to these changes, the original forklift of the game has been replaced by a new model, so that forklift fans can now look forward to complete their loading tasks with a real STILL® RX60-80 forklift!

Next to the new vehicles there have also been new missions added to the game, which will give players ample chance to make extensive use of all of their new machinery.

On top of all this, owners of smartphones and tablets using the Android™ operating system are now able to play the game with external game controllers thanks to the newly integrated experimental controller support.

Construction Simulator 2 offers players more than 40 originally licensed vehicles and machines of popular makers such as Caterpillar, Liebherr, Palfinger, Bell Equipment, STILL, ATLAS, Kenworth, Mack Trucks and MEILLER Kipper as well as more than 70 challenging building tasks. In addition to Construction Simulator 2 there is also the free Construction Simulator 2 Lite, which allows players to test the game before upgrading it to its full version with access to all of the game's features.

To properly celebrate the release of its newest free update, Construction Simulator 2 as well as the upgrade from Lite version to the full game will be available for a special price of 1.99 EUR / 0.99 USD / 0.99 GBP on the Apple® App Store® from November 30 until December 8, 2017!
