STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN (November 07, 2016) Starbreeze AB, an independent creator publisher and distributor of high quality entertainment products, today announced the start of a new label under its Publishing business – “Starbreeze IndieLabs”. As a first IndieLabs project, Starbreeze and Croatian game developers Lion Game Lion have signed an agreement for Starbreeze to invest 300 000 USD to bring the game “AntiSphere” to PC and other platforms. Starbreeze will be able to recoup its full investment, where after Starbreeze will retain 30% of the revenues after distribution fees. Lion Game Lion and Soap Interactive will retain 100% of the Intellectual Property (IP).

Antisphere is a top-down competitive arena battle game in which players use their skills in order to catch each other out, and win the match. It's a high-octane action packed experience with a large variety of ships, weapons and arenas.

Antisphere will be showcased in Starbreeze booth at the Reboot event taking place in Zagreb November 8-13.

Under the new Publishing sub-label Starbreeze aims to sign projects smaller in scope and investment to give developers an easy and quick way to reach the market with Publishing support. Starbreeze IndieLabs will continue to work according to Starbreeze Publishing’s principles, where Starbreeze aims to be a best in class partner enabling developers to retain a large portion of IP-rights and fair revenue shares, while the Labs label will signify the start-up spirit of the projects.

Antisphere is in development, release dates and other platforms are to be determined and announced at a later date.
