Take your heisting on the go with an all new PAYDAY experience for iOS and Google Play - here's all the details for how to sign up and get a chance to participate

Starbreeze and OVERKILL – A Starbreeze studio have just opened up the sign-up site for the closed beta test of the anticipated mobile game PAYDAY: Crime War. Heisters looking to participate and feedback on the game are encouraged to visit <https://betatest.paydaycrimewar.com/> for a chance to join in on the fun.

The closed beta aims to test a number of features and functions of the game, including matchmaking, device performance, game mechanics and rules. Aspiring beta testers will kindly be asked to provide feedback on their experience during the closed beta period which will run from September 10 to October 14, 2018.

The game in itself is an all new take on heisting, set in the PAYDAY universe and introduces a franchise first co-op PvP experience. Players will be able to rob banks impersonating the most iconic heisters from the PAYDAY PC and console games, as well as experience the other perspective, playing as law enforcement attempting to prevent the heist.

Face off in this multiplayer PvP experience and challenge your enemies in iconic locations varying from the First World Bank to the Jewelry Store. Unlock upgrades and even more powerful gear along your path to improve your loadout and gain the winning edge. Grab your friends and abide the law or plan the perfect heist. Who will come out on top?
