

New Australian patent approval for Episurf Medical

The Australian patent office IP Australia has issued a Notice of acceptance for another patent for Episurf Medical (NASDAQ: EPIS B) in Australia. The patent, entitled "Method and node for manufacturing a surgical kit for cartilage repair" covers Episurf Medical's medical image segmentation process used for joint structure visualisation.

"This patent covers important details of the segmentation process Episurf Medical uses for 3D visualisation of joints, which is a central part of our technology platform", comments Katarina Flodström, CRO & Head of IP, Episurf Medical.
