New Business Unit President for Ovako in Hällefors

Erik Bohman has been appointed as the new Business Unit President of Ovako Hällefors. Erik has worked at Ovako since 2011, most recently in charge of Cromax where he successfully contributed to the development of the business. Erik Bohman takes on his new role from 1 October 2017.

“I look forward to welcoming Erik to the executive management team, as President of Business Unit Hällefors,” says Marcus Hedblom, Ovako’s President and CEO. “His extensive experience and ability to drive commercial and customer-oriented business development will be a great asset in the continued development of our operations in Hällefors.”

Erik takes over from Mathias Tillman, who has held two parallel roles over the past year. Mathias will now fully focus on his responsibilities as Ovako’s EVP Group Sales.

“This change creates the scope for Mathias to fully focus on continuing to develop our customer relations globally. I would like to thank Mathias for his contributions as Business Unit President Hällefors and look forward to have him successfully continue developing our sales organization,” says Marcus Hedblom.
