CELLINK signs distribution agreement with Thermo Fisher Scientific ANZ

CELLINK have signed an exclusive distribution agreement with one of the world's biggest distributors of laboratory equipment for Australia and New Zealand. The agreement includes the distribution of all CELLINK's products and will help CELLINK to reach more customers in the region.

Thermo Fisher Scientific ANZ, who have more than 300 commercial employees in the region, will designate a team of specialists to meet our customers' needs and actively market CELLINKs products in the region. The first BIO X will be delivered in August. This agreement enables CELLINK to have better customer care in the region as well as reaching more customers.
