THQ Nordic will release the classic RPG Silver during Steam publisher weekend

THQ Nordic brings 1999's legendary game to the leading digital platform, Steam.

Silver finds its way on to Steam and will be released on June 2nd 2017 at 7pm CET.

Silver shines again and for the first time on Steam. Now it is running on current operating systems and also supports today's standard rendering resolutions.

Back in 1999, Silver was the European answer to JRPGs. With eye-candy in the form of pre-rendered 2D backgrounds, manga-inspired character design, and console-style gameplay, it introduced PC gamers to a new genre.
