

Island Hopping In Hawaii With DialAFlight

Comprising 120 islands, award-winning beaches, blockbuster backdrops, one of the driest and wettest places in the world (all on one island), Hawaii boasts diversity unlike any other island-hopping itinerary. And for a limited time only, tour operator DialAFlight (www.dialaflight.com / 0844 556 6060) is offering a number of great-value deals to this winter sun destination – from just £999.

This US state is one of great contrasts - from the North Shore on Oahu where visitors can witness the awe-inspiring (and equally nerve wracking) professional surfers take on 40ft waves to exploring Hawaii's only city Honolulu with its vibrant night life. And from trekking in to the crater of a volcano to see the sun rise on Maui to taking the most memorable helicopter ride of your life on Kauai – think back to the first scene in Jurassic Park!

In a recent TV interview with DialAFlight (<http://media.dialaflight.com/tv/hawaii-video/>), Rachel Booker at Hawaii Tourism states, "The best way to see this eclectic destination is to island hop and with the inter-island airlines departing every 30 minutes there has never been a cheaper, more accessible way to do this. My tip is to travel between November and March, which is when an array of water activities take place, from the professional big wave surf season to spotting the migrating Alaska humpback whales – both of which can be seen from the safety of the white sand shore."

Tour operator DialAFlight is offering a selection of Hawaii packages, from island-hopping itineraries to great-value seven-night deals, including:
