OSLO, NORWAY (04 December 2017) – A split of the Company, highlighting both the major progress within the pharma business and the fantastic sales within the supplement business, will make the underlying value of the company more visible and thus create more shareholder value.

"Sales of our supplement business continue to reach new, and record, levels, and the pharma business is progressing into a very exciting stage. The timing of the spin-off has been carefully planned", says CEO Daniel H. Rosenbaum.
