

Handelsbanken

Press release

Stockholm, 14 February 2007

Tore Browaldh has died

Handelsbanken's honorary chairman Tore Browaldh has died. He was CEO of Handelsbanken from 1955 to 1966 and chairman of the board from 1966 to 1978.

Tore Browaldh's life and career spanned an unusually broad field of activity: public administration, industry organisations, banking and commerce, both in Sweden and abroad. He combined a long and successful career as a business leader with an active interest in social issues. With his international outlook and long-term perspective, he was an example for all generations.

We mourn an honorary chairman who was a man of honour in every sense of the word.

Lars O Grönstedt, Chairman of the Board
Pär Boman, Group Chief Executive