FUNDING AND LIQUIDITY

For most of the period, the funding market continued to stabilise, mainly due to very high liquidity among investors worldwide. Handelsbanken's strong position in the funding market resulted in good access to long-term and short-term funding throughout the period. The Bank was unaffected by the considerable turbulence which returned to the market towards the end of the second quarter.

During the period, Handelsbanken was active on several different funding markets. In the first six months of 2013, bonds with a total value of SEK 123 billion were issued, of which SEK 95 billion were in covered bonds and SEK 28 billion in senior bonds. For example, the Bank issued covered bonds on the US market. The average maturity for the issued volume was just over four years.

The Bank also continued to issue extendible notes on the US market. The total loan volume during the first half of 2013 was SEK 40 billion. These loans have a maturity of three years, with an option for investors to terminate the loan with a six-month period of notice.

At the end of the quarter, the Bank issued for the first time senior bonds on the Japanese market in the Samurai format. In total, a benchmark volume of just over JPY 50 billion was issued, equivalent to some SEK 3.5 billion, with 3- and 5-year maturities. The price level was lower than for comparable Q2 issues carried out by other European banks on the Japanese market. This issue confirms Handelsbanken's strong position on the Japanese bond market.

The second-quarter bond issues mean that all the Bank's bond maturities up to the end of September 2014 have been prefinanced. Total bonds maturing amounted to SEK 77 billion for the remainder of 2013 and SEK 151 billion for 2014.

Total liquidity reserves continued to exceed SEK 750 billion.

According to the current Swedish definition from 1 January 2013, the Handelsbanken Group's liquidity coverage ratio (LCR) at the end of the period was 128 per cent. In USD, the LCR was 190 per cent and in EUR it was 118 per cent. According to the definition in CRD4, the Group's LCR is estimated to be 140 per cent.

Core tier 1 capital increased to SEK 88.1 billion (81.6) and the core tier 1 ratio according to Basel II went up by 2.1 percentage points to 18.2 per cent (16.1). The period's profit increased the core tier 1 ratio by 1.4 percentage points, and the conversion of staff convertible bonds increased it by 0.2 percentage points.

Higher lending volumes reduced the core tier 1 ratio by 0.6 percentage points. At the same time, the credit quality improved, and the mix effect of the fact that new lending volumes are of higher credit quality than the portfolio average had a 1.0 percentage point positive impact. The improved credit quality thus compensated for the whole of the increased capital requirement due to higher lending volumes. Credit risk migration in the loan portfolio reduced the core tier 1 ratio by 0.4 percentage points.

The removed transitional rules regarding investments in insurance holdings and a capital contribution in Handelsbanken Liv had a negative impact of 0.5 percentage points. Exchange rate effects had a positive effect of 0.2 percentage points, IAS 19 by 0.3 percentage points and other effects by 0.5 percentage points.

30 June 2013 compared with 31 March 2013

During the quarter, the core tier 1 ratio according to Basel II increased by 0.2 percentage points to 18.2 per cent (18.0). The period's profit made a 0.4 percentage point contribution to this while increased lending volumes reduced the core tier 1 ratio by 0.2 percentage points. IAS 19 reduced the core tier 1 ratio by 0.2 percentage points and exchange rate effects by 0.1 percentage point. Other factors had an overall positive effect of 0.4 percentage points. The introduction of the advanced approach for large companies and the annual validation of the IRB model had no net impact on the core tier 1 ratio.

The Bank estimates that the core tier 1 ratio according to Basel III is 17.8 per cent.

Capital requirements for Swedish mortgage loans in Pillar 2

On 21 May, the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority decided to introduce a Pillar 2 supervisory measure in the form of a capital requirement equivalent to a 15 per cent risk weight floor for Swedish mortgage loan portfolios. In the Bank's assessment, this entails a capital requirement in Pillar 2 of approximately SEK 7 billion.

* Internal income which is included in total income comprises income from transactions with other operating segments. Since interest income and interest expense are reported net as income, this means that internal income includes the net amount of the internal funding cost among segments.

The business segments consist of branch office operations in Sweden, the UK, Denmark, Finland, Norway and the Netherlands, as well as Handelsbanken International and Capital Markets. The income statements by segment include internal items such as internal interest, commissions and payment for internal services rendered, primarily according to the cost price principle. The part of Capital Markets' operating profit that does not involve risk-taking is distributed to branches that are responsible for customers.

Branch office operations in Sweden

NOTES

Note 1 Accounting policies

Information relating to the Group has been stated in accordance with IAS 34. For both the Group and the parent company, the contents of the interim report also comply with the applicable provisions of the Swedish Act on Annual Reports in Credit Institutions and Securities Companies, the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority's regulations and general guidelines FFFS 2008:25 on annual reports in credit institutions and securities companies and recommendations from the Swedish Financial Reporting Board.

On 1 January 2013, the revised IAS 19 Employee benefits came into effect for application within the EU. This impacts how Handelsbanken reports defined-benefit pension plans since the "corridor" method for accounting of actuarial gains and losses has been removed. In addition, the current assumption for the return on plan assets has been replaced by an estimated yield equivalent to the discount rate for the pension liability. This impacts the calculation of the pension cost reported in the income statement. Accumulated actuarial gains and losses are reported in the transition against retained earnings. The resulting value changes in obligations and assets are reported in other comprehensive income. This change in policy has resulted in the Group's opening equity at the beginning of 2013 decreasing by SEK 3,047 million. Comparison figures for 2012 have been adjusted and were announced in a press release on 15 April. The adjusted comparison figures are shown in note 22.

IFRS 13 Fair Value Measurement also came into effect for application in the EU on 1 January 2013. The standard deals with common principles for fair value measurement of most of the assets and liabilities at fair value in the accounts, or for which information about fair value must be provided. IFRS 13 clarifies some of the principles for fair value measurement which were previously applied in accordance with IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement. The application of IFRS 13 has not affected the values reported for financial instruments to any significant degree. However, the new standard contains more extensive requirements for disclosures of fair value measurement, in particular for fair values in level 3 of the valuation hierarchy. Disclosures of fair value measurement are provided in note 15. This note also provides information about how the credit risk component in derivative contracts is valued.

As of the 2013 financial year, new disclosures are made concerning the set-off of financial assets and liabilities, in compliance with IFRS 7, Financial Instruments: Disclosures which came into effect for application in the EU on 1 January 2013. See note 17.

The revised IAS 1 Presentation of financial statements, which came into effect for application in the EU on 1 January 2013, has affected the Bank's presentation of other comprehensive income. Items which will later be reclassified to the income statement are now separated from those items which are not reclassified.

In all other respects, the interim report of the Group and the parent company has been prepared in accordance with the same accounting policies and calculation methods that were applied in the annual report for 2012.

Impaired loans

Impaired loans includes all loans for which not all the contracted cash flows will probably be fulfilled. The full amount of all loans which give rise to a specific provision is included in impaired loans, including amounts which are covered by collateral. This means that the impaired loans reserve ratio is stated without taking into account collateral received. Thus this key figure may vary substantially between the quarters, even though the provisioning policies are unchanged.

Note 15 Fair value measurement of financial assets and liabilities

The tables show the valuation technique applied for financial assets and liabilities at fair value. Level 1 comprises instruments for which there are listed prices on an active market. Level 2 comprises instruments which have been indirectly valued using market information. Level 3 consists of instruments whose valuation depends materially upon a variable that is not directly available on the market.

Handelsbanken's independent risk control function is responsible for checking and validating the valuation of financial instruments at fair value, including categorisation in terms of how the valuations have been carried out and the extent of market data used. The categorisation is based on an assessment of the market activity and the input data used in the valuation. This is shown in levels 1–3 in the table. In general, the valuations are based on externally generated data as far as is possible based on the circumstances in each case. When choosing the valuation model, models that are established in the market are mainly used. The models and input data which form the basis of the valuations are regularly validated to ensure that they are consistent with market practice and established financial theory.

Financial instruments are valued at their current market price at the balance sheet date, providing that price information is easily available and that it is representative of real and frequently occurring transactions in an active market. The current bid price is used for financial assets and the current ask price is used for financial liabilities. For groups of financial instruments which are managed on the basis of the Bank's net exposure to market risk, the current market price is treated as being the same as the mid-market price on the balance sheet date, if the Bank's overall risk positions essentially balance each other.

Financial instruments which are valued at the current market price are categorised as level 1. These financial instruments mainly comprise government instruments and other interest-bearing securities that are traded actively, listed equities and short positions in corresponding assets. Level 1 also includes shares in mutual funds and other assets related to unit-linked contracts and similar agreements and the corresponding items on the liability side (assets and liabilities where the customer bears the value change risk).

For financial instruments where there is no reliable information about market prices, fair value is established using valuation models. These models may be based on comparisons with recently performed transactions in the same instrument or instruments with similar characteristics. Where such a market approach is not possible or appropriate, valuation models based on the present value calculation of expected cash flows or option valuation models are generally used, depending on the nature of the instrument. The valuations are based on input data in the form of market interest rates and equity prices together with adjustments for other variables which a market player would be expected to take into consideration when pricing.

In the model valuation of derivatives, the positive differences between the value calculated at initial recognition and the transaction price (day 1 result), are distributed over the life of the financial instrument. Such differences occur when the applied valuation model does not capture all the components in the value of the derivative in full. As a consequence of the application of this principle, SEK 38 million has been amortised in net gains/losses on financial transactions during the period January – June 2013. At the end of the period, day 1 gains not recognised as income amounted to SEK 380 million (341). In addition, the Bank makes an independent valuation of the total credit risk components (own credit risk as well as counterparty risk) in outstanding OTC derivatives. Changes in fair value due to worsened credit risk are recognised in profit/loss to the extent that the effect exceeds non-amortised day 1 gains.

Financial instruments which are valued using valuation models which substantially are based on market data are categorised as level 2. Level 2 mainly includes interest-bearing securities and fixed-income and currency-related derivatives. During the period January – June 2013, interest-bearing securities worth SEK 605 million were moved from level 2 to level 1 due to increased market activity. In addition, interest-bearing securities worth SEK 14 million were moved from level 1 to level 2 due to decreased trading.

Financial instruments valued using a model where input data that has not been possible to verify using external market information has had a material effect on the valuation, are categorised as level 3. These holdings mainly comprise investments in private equity funds in the insurance operations and unlisted shares.

Investments in private equity funds are valued using valuation models mainly based on a relative valuation of comparable listed companies in the same sector. The measurements of profit used in the comparison are adjusted for factors which distort the comparison between the investment and the company used for comparison. After this, the valuation is based on earnings multiples, e.g. P/E ratios. All investments in private equity funds are plan assets in the Group's insurance operations. Value changes in these holdings are therefore included in the basis for calculating the yield split in the insurance operations.

Note 16 Business combinations

On 24 May 2013, the acquisition of Heartwood Wealth Group Limited was completed with pertaining rights, asset management agreements and subsidiaries etc. Heartwood Wealth Group Limited thus became a wholly-owned subsidiary of Handelsbanken. Heartwood manages around GBP 1.6 billion and has some 90 employees. The company has operations in London and Tunbridge Wells. It offers services such as discretionary management, financial advice and pension solutions.

To establish a preliminary acquisition balance sheet at the time of consolidation, the cost of acquisition at fair value in accordance with IFRS 3 was set at approximately GBP 44 million. The acquisition analysis includes fair value measurement of the assets and liabilities in Heartwood, identifiable intangible assets, valuation of contingent liabilities, deferred taxes and maximum additional purchase price subject to certain conditions.

The table below shows how the cost of acquisition in the acquisition balance sheet was allocated over the acquired assets and liabilities in

The Group's holdings of unlisted securities mainly consist of the Bank's participating interests in various types of joint operations which are related to the Bank's business. For example, these may be participating interests in clearing organisations and infrastructure collaboration on Handelsbanken's home markets. In general, such holdings are valued at the Bank's share of the company's net asset value, or alternatively at the price of the last completed transaction. Changes in level 3 holdings during the period are shown in a separate table. In all material respects, unlisted shares are classified as available for sale. Value changes for these holdings are thus reported in other comprehensive income.

Level 3 also includes loans at fair value and for which the valuation has largely been affected by a credit risk assumption which cannot be verified with externally generated data. A reasonable possible change in these credit risk assumptions would not have any significant effect on the Group's financial position or profit. Changes in value of loans at fair value are reported in net gains/losses on financial transactions.

Heartwood at the time of the acquisition. The lower part of the table shows the carrying amounts and fair values for Heartwood's assets and liabilities.

The goodwill arising from the acquisition is mainly due to the synergy effects with Handelsbanken's established operations in the UK and personnel-related resources. In addition to goodwill, at the time of the acquisition a customer-related intangible asset and the Heartwood brand were identified, the values of which can be reliably measured and which are therefore reported separately from goodwill.

Since the acquisition, Heartwood has contributed SEK 17 million to the year's income. The contribution to the year's profit is only marginal. If Heartwood had been included in the consolidated accounts from 1 January 2013, the company would have contributed SEK 75 million to the Group's income. The impact on the year's profit would have been only marginal.

Derivatives are set off in the balance sheet if the Bank has a contractual right to set off the items and intends to settle the payments simultaneously with a net amount. The remaining counterparty risk in derivatives is reduced through netting agreements, which involve setting off positive values against negative values for all derivative transactions with the same counterparty. Handelsbanken's policy is to sign netting agreements with all bank counterparties. Netting agreements are supplemented with agreements for issuing collateral for the net exposure. The collateral for these transactions is mainly cash, but government securities are also used. Collateral for repurchase agreements and lending and borrowing of securities is usually in the form of cash or other securities.

Handelsbanken is implementing the IRB model for its credit exposures in stages. Swedish, Danish, Finnish and Norwegian exposures to households and small companies, and corresponding exposures at Handelsbanken Finans and Stadshypotek have been approved for IRB reporting.

Corporate and institutional exposures at all regional banks, Stadshypotek and Handelsbanken Finans and also large companies and institutional exposures in foreign branches have been approved for calculation of the capital requirement according to the IRB approach. In 2010, Handelsbanken received permission from the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority to report most of its corporate exposures to medium-sized companies, property companies and housing co-operative associations according to the advanced IRB approach. In 2013, Handelsbanken received permission from the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority to report most of its corporate exposures to large companies according to the advanced IRB approach, with the first reporting occasion as at 30 June 2013. The table presents the corporate exposures as at 30 June 2013, split into the foundation and the advanced approaches. In addition, repos and securities loans are reported separately since they give rise to very low capital requirements, while the volume varies considerably over time. The low capital requirement is due to the fact that the exposure in repos and securities loans is reported gross and the exposure is secured.

The average risk weight for the IRB exposures amounted to 19.9 per cent as at 30 June 2013. The risk weight for corporate exposures was positively affected by the implementation of the advanced approach for large companies and negatively affected by updating of the risk measurements. The net effect is a stable average risk weight. The credit quality is very good. Just over 95 per cent of Handelsbanken's corporate exposures were to customers with a repayment capacity assessed as normal or better than normal, i.e. with a risk classification grade between one and five on the Bank's ten-point risk classification scale.

The advanced IRB models are based on historical losses from both the recent financial crisis and the Swedish banking crisis of the early 1990s. These risk weights reflect the fact that Handelsbanken has reported low loan losses over a long period. The risk measurements applied contain safety margins to ensure that the risk is not underestimated.

The level of the risk weight in the corporate exposures should also be seen in the light of the portfolio composition and how various loans are classified in the different exposure classes. Handelsbanken has classified its lending to housing co-operative associations as companies while some other banks have opted to classify this as retail lending.

Note 21 Risk and capital management

Risks and uncertainty factors

Economic developments continue to be characterised by the debt crisis in the eurozone and a weak global business cycle. As long as the imbalances prevail in the global economy with many indebted countries, the unstable situation risks causing turbulence on the financial markets. A future neutralisation of the highly expansive monetary policy in the US may also create further volatility on the financial markets. Turbulence on the financial markets affects the financial sector's opportunities to access mainly long-term funding.

Handelsbanken has no sovereign exposures and has small other exposures to the "PIIGS" countries, but may be affected indirectly if the European debt crisis were to worsen significantly. Handelsbanken has a strong liquidity situation both as a whole and in all currencies which are of importance for the Bank; it has continually had full access to the capital markets. Handelsbanken's low tolerance of risks, sound capitalisation and strong liquidity mean that the Bank is well equipped to operate under all these conditions.

Handelsbanken's liquidity situation is healthy and is described in more detail under the heading Funding and liquidity on page 6.

Handelsbanken has low tolerance of market risks. For the second quarter of 2013, the average total exposure in the trading book, measured as Value-at-Risk (VaR), was SEK 25 million (SEK 16 million in Q2 2012). During the period, the risk varied between SEK 20 million (9) and SEK 35 million (26).

Other aspects of the Bank's risk and capital management are described in Handelsbanken's 2012 annual report and in Handelsbanken's Risk and capital management – Information according to Pillar 3 for 2012. No material changes have occurred since the publication of these documents that are not presented in this interim report.

Liquidity and funding

Handelsbanken's liquidity situation is healthy. For a long period of time, the Bank has actively worked with liquidity measures and has adopted a conservative approach. Part of this work has involved centralising liquidity management with the purpose of strengthening control of the liquidity risks and of guaranteeing and optimising the Bank's funding in all scenarios. The Bank has worked for a long time on extending the maturities of its funding by increasing bond issues and ensuring that liquidity risks are included in internal pricing. The Bank's funding programme covers maturities in SEK, EUR and USD that the Bank needs to finance its lending and also creates the opportunity for issues in all currencies that are relevant for the Bank.

The components are defined in accordance with the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority's directives and requirements for the liquidity coverage ratio and reporting of liquid assets and cash flows (FFFS 2012:6). Liquid assets level 1 corresponds to Chapter 3, Section 6. Liquid assets level 2 corresponds to Chapter 3, Section 7. Customer deposits corresponds to Chapter 4, Sections 4-9. Market funding corresponds to Chapter 4, Sections 10-13. Other cash flows corresponds to Chapter 4, Sections 14-25. Loans to non-financial customers corresponds to Chapter 5 Section 4. Other cash inflows corresponds to Chapter 5, Sections 6-12.

As a measure of sensitivity to short-term disruptions in the funding market, the Basel Committee has proposed a risk measure, Liquidity Coverage Ratio (LCR). The measure will be implemented as a quantitative requirement through CRD IV according to the EU's implementation plan. In Sweden, the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority's liquidity coverage ratio regulations (FFFS 2012:6) have applied since 1 January 2013. The Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority's definition differs from the measure proposed by the Basel Committee and which will be introduced as CRD IV in 2015. It is defined as the ratio between the Bank's liquidity buffer and net cash flows in a very stressed scenario during a 30-day period. The ratio must be more than 100 per cent. A short-term liquidity ratio may display a degree of volatility over time, for example when funding that was originally long term and which is financing mortgage loans is replaced by new long-term funding, or when the composition of counterparty categories varies in the short-term funding. At the end of the quarter, Handelsbanken's LCR according to the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority's definition was 128 per cent, which shows that the Bank has high resistance to short-term disruptions in the funding market. This also applies in US dollars and euros.

Stress test with liquidity-creating measures

The Bank's liquidity position is regularly subjected to a stress test. In the test, the Bank's cash flows are stressed, based on certain defined assumptions. The stress test shows resistance to more long-term market disruptions. For example, it is assumed in the stress test that the Bank cannot obtain funding in the financial markets while there is a gradual disappearance of ten per cent of deposits from households and companies over the first month. It is further assumed that the Bank continues to conduct its core activities, i.e. loans to households and companies and that committed loan offers and other credit facilities are partly utilised by customers. Account is also taken of the fact that holdings with central banks are utilised and that the Central Treasury liquidity portfolio can provide immediate additional liquidity. In addition, liquidity-creating measures – for example, unutilised facilities to issue covered bonds – are used in order to gradually provide liquidity to the Bank. The result of the stress test shows that also in a stressed scenario, the liquidity reserves cover the Bank's liquidity requirement for over two years, even if access to new funding in the markets were to disappear.

Auditors' report concerning review of interim report

To the Board of Svenska Handelsbanken AB (publ), corporate identity number 502007-7862

INTRODUCTION

We have reviewed the interim report for Svenska Handelsbanken AB (publ) as at 30 June 2013 and for the six-month period ending as at this date. The Board and the Chief Executive are responsible for the preparation and presentation of this interim report in accordance with IAS 34 and the Annual Accounts Act for Credit Institutions and Securities Companies. Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on this interim report based on our review.

FOCUS AND SCOPE OF THE REVIEW

We have conducted our review in accordance with the Standard on review engagements SÖG 2410, Review of interim financial information performed by the auditors elected by the company. A review consists of making inquiries, primarily to persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review differs from and is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with the International Standard on Auditing and generally accepted auditing practices in Sweden. The procedures performed in a review do not enable us to obtain a level of assurance that would make us aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Therefore the conclusion expressed based on a review does not give the same level of assurance as a conclusion expressed based on an audit.

CONCLUSION

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying interim report is not, in all material respects, in accordance with IAS 34 and the Swedish Annual Accounts Act for Credit Institutions and Securities Companies for the Group and in accordance with the Swedish Annual Accounts Act for Credit Institutions and Securities Companies for the parent company.
