

Tyréns - community builder in need of mobile IT infrastructure choose Sigma Infrastructure Solutions

Tyréns is one of Sweden's leading urban planning consultancies, construction and real estate sector. With Sigma's help Tyréns has implemented a platform for communication and client management based on Lync and System Center. Tyréns is also evaluating how Office 365 can further help the organization to work more mobile.

Sigma has helped Tyréns with the design, implementation and rollout of solutions that make it easier to work flexible and mobile, for example by participating in online meetings and teleconferences wherever you are. It is important in an organization with offices in 30 locations and missions in many more places. The new platform has functions that makes it easier to search and find employees with the right skills for a specific mission and also it also includes attendance management.
