

GreenWorks Kicks Gas Can to the Curb on Designing Spaces™ on Lifetime TV

GreenWorks' Battery-Powered Lawn Tools from Sunrise Global Marketing LLC Get Charged Up on "Think Green" series

(Pompano Beach, FL – April 11, 2013) GreenWorks Battery-Powered Outdoor Equipment from Sunrise Global Marketing LLC will be featured on the popular home improvement show Designing Spaces™ on Lifetime TV on Friday, April 12th at 7:30 am (ET/PT). The segment, "Exploring Eco-friendly Lawn Care Solutions" airs as part of the "Think Green" series.

Peter Kilcullen from Greenworks pays homeowner Matt a visit and shows him how his lawn and landscape can be green in more than one way. Eco-friendly and economical, GreenWorks' entire line of lawn care products are Energy Star certified and leave no carbon footprint.

Kilcullen brings along a selection of electrically powered yard and landscape maintenance tools for Matt to try out, a trimmer/edger, a dual blade lawn mower, a blower, and a hedge trimmer. All the tools use the same battery and viewers will see a recharge in action and learn about the long run times for each piece of equipment.

"We're so excited to have Sunrise Global on our "Think Green" series to show our Designing Spaces viewers a great solution to going green while cutting their greens," says Lysa Liemer, Designing Spaces™ on Lifetime Executive VP of Programming and Chief Operating Officer.
