

Fiberweb, Inc. Talks Wrapping a House on Designing Spaces™ on Lifetime TV

TYPAR® Weather Protection System 'House Wrap' Protects Home From Moisture

(Pompano Beach, FL – April 11, 2013) Fiberweb's TYPAR® Weather Protection System will be featured on the popular home improvement show Designing Spaces™ on Lifetime TV on Friday, April 12th at 7:30 am (ET/PT) in an "Understanding the Importance of a Home's Envelope" segment as part of the "Think Green" series.

Fiberweb Construction Technical Manager Bijan Mansouri will meet up with the Designing Spaces™ host at a couple's home to show viewers a TYPAR installation in progress and how it works as a barrier against destructive weather elements, allows moisture vapor to escape as well as contributing to improved overall energy efficiency. ENERGY STAR requires a house to have a continuous air barrier. TYPAR has been tested and approved as an effective air barrier.

"We're excited to have Fiberweb on our "Think Green" series to show our Designing Spaces viewers a great solution to providing their home a defense against nature while improving air quality," says Lysa Liemer, Designing Spaces™ on Lifetime Executive VP of Programming and Chief Operating Officer.
