During the segment “The Connected Digital Lifestyle,” Chad Thompson from Logitech meets up with a homeowner and our Designing Spaces host and installs the Harmony Ultimate which reduces all remote controls from TV’s, DVD’s, DVR’s, stereo systems, game consoles and lighting, into one single unit compatible with hundreds of systems.

Thompson will also discuss how Logitech can help further transform the digital makeover by turning a TV into a portal that connects one with friends and family with the Logitech TV Cam HD, adding HD quality Skype to the entertainment experience.
