SmartFile Launches the First File Sharing & FTP Appliance

SmartFile releases an on-premise enterprise file sharing and FTP server appliance.

SmartFile introduces the first business file sharing and FTP appliance designed for enterprise and midsize businesses seeking enhanced compliance and security. Utilizing SmartFile's proven technology and existing user-friendly web interface, businesses can now manage files and users on-site. John Hurley, SmartFile President and CEO said, "This hardware delivers the same features and scalability that our web-based product has for years."

The plug and play device allows IT managers to integrate FTP and file management into their network with minimal effort. Features include a fully documented RESTful API, Active Directory (or LDAP) integration, and a customized web interface that utilizes a company's domain, logo, color schema, and assigned helpdesk emails. Also included with each appliance are SmartFile's new desktop sync client and Microsoft Outlook Add-In to make managing data even easier.

The SmartFile appliance bundles the cost of hardware, software, updates and 24/7 support into a monthly or annual subscription. The subscription-pricing model is based on storage needs, which range from 1 to 90 usable terabytes per appliance (scalable to infinite amount of storage with additional devices). Next-day onsite support is also included with all appliances. Brian Kuntz, SmartFile Enterprise Business Development Manager said, "SmartFile's appliance subscription enables the security and compliance that companies need without the added cost of hardware ownership. Businesses will be able to support growing file sharing and storage demands with less effort, time, and money."

For more information about the SmartFile Appliance, visit www.smartfile.com/enterprise/appliance/.

Contact: Kevin O'Keefe
Email: kokeefe@smartfile.com
Phone: 877-335-3453 x728

About SmartFile

SmartFile is a market leader in business class file sharing & FTP hosting. SmartFile provides service to companies in over 140 countries and includes General Mills, Yahoo, EA Sports, Sketches and Roche Diagnostics among a list of clients. From Fortune 500 companies to the one-man enterprise, SmartFile has been the trusted platform chosen by businesses of all sizes to move big data in any environment. For more information, call 877-336-3453 or visit www.smartfile.com.