Rejlers is the main sponsor of Swedish endurance race

In September, it's time for the endurance race ÖTILLÖ which is ranked as one of the toughest in the world. Rejlers is the main sponsor of the event for the second year in a row. Employees at Rejlers will compete in the contest taking place across and between the 24 islands in the Stockholm archipelago.

"ÖTILLÖ is about willingness, persistence, goal focus, cooperation, and especially passion. Qualities which also run our employees and our company forward. There is a clear connection between this event and our core values, health and successful", says Eva Nygren, President and CEO of Rejlers.

"We seek long-term partnerships that reflect our passion, our belief in endurance and the will to always improve. As the main sponsor Rejlers meets all these criteria, and they help us to develop", says Michael Lemmel, Event Director for ÖTILLÖ.

Rejlers has a team ready for the start line this year. In the race Christian Pettersson and Rejlers chairman Peter Rejler compete.

"We have a few employees each year who participate in the race. A competition like this leads to discussions about our own limits and how we can challenge ourselves to develop as employees and humans", says Peter Rejler, Chairman of Rejlers.
