Acando awarded for success in Microsoft Dynamics

For the third consecutive year, Acando has been awarded membership in the Microsoft Dynamics President's Club. Only five percent of Microsoft Dynamics partners worldwide manage to qualify for this award. Acando is one of Microsoft's largest implementation partners of Dynamics CRM and Dynamics AX in the Nordic region and has obtained the award thanks to good growth, high-quality delivery and customer focus.

This honor is a direct reflection of Acando's outstanding group of employees and management team, all of whom should be very proud of this accomplishment. Acando plays a very important role in the growth and success of Microsoft Dynamics. We confidently look forward to a continued good cooperation, says Thomas Laine, Business Unit Manager, Microsoft.

Acando is one of the companies on the Swedish ERP and CRM market with the longest and widest experience of Microsoft Dynamics. Acando provides both bundled services around the implementation of Microsoft Dynamics as well as proprietary extension modules and industry solutions. Acando has some of the most experienced consultants in Dynamics and has a very good track record of delivering successful implementation projects for Swedish companies based on Dynamics AX and Dynamics CRM.

We are proud to be one of the few Swedish partner companies who qualify for President's Club. The award along with us having most consultants certified on Dynamics in Sweden is a receipt that Acando is one of the leading providers of Microsoft Dynamics in the Nordic region, said Hans Wigdahl, Business Area Manager of Microsoft Dynamics at Acando.

Microsoft Dynamics AX is an integrated business software that automates processes for financial management, customer relationship management, supply chains, and has tools to develop decision support etc.

Microsoft Dynamics CRM is an easy to use customer relationship management system with tools to enhance sales, marketing, and customer service processes.
