

RICHARD MILLE SUPPORTS FELIPE MASSA AND JULES BIANCHI FOR THE 2013 FORMULA 1 SEASON

The F1 season is about to get underway in Australia, and we would like to wish our two protégés Felipe Massa and Jules Bianchi every success!

Although Ferrari is already linked to another watchmaking brand, Felipe and Richard Mille were keen to continue working together in testimony to their friendship and loyalty. Felipe will always remain very much a part of the Richard Mille family.

We have followed him since his earliest F1 races and have enjoyed watching his story unfold, with all its dramas and triumphs. Felipe ended the 2012 season in brilliant style, and we are sure that 2013 will be another excellent year for him.

The same goes for Jules Bianchi who, at the age of 23, is one of the great hopes of F1. A member of the Ferrari Driver Academy and the third Scuderia driver, he has joined the Marussia team with the full support of Maranello. Followed by Richard Mille since his first single-seater outings, Jules now has a bright future ahead of him. His main aim in 2013 is to get lots of races under his belt and notch up plenty of experience behind the wheel of a Formula 1 car.

RICHARD MILLE