

It's all going on in the Superyacht Pavillion at METS

Press Release:

For immediate release:

Described as a destination in its own right, the Superyacht Pavilion at the Marine Equipment Trade Show (METS) is shaping up to be a super-hub of networking and industry opportunities.

The International Superyacht Society Membership Mixer will be held in this prestigious venue on Tuesday 18th November from 5.30 – 7.30pm, nicely complimenting the METS exhibitor happy hour also held within the Amsterdam RAI Complex that evening.

Yachting Pages Media group will be firmly in place near the center of the pavilion on stand 09.510 and invites clients and new businesses to join them from 4pm each day for networking and drinks.

The METS Young Professionals Club has released their program of events and members will certainly be busy. Starting on the first day of the show with a breakfast buffet and meet and greet, highlights include an interview with keynote speaker Ms. Carla Demaria, president of Monte Carlo Yachts and member of the board and general manager of Beneteau and a number of speed networking sessions to meet other young professional in the marine industry.

The Global Superyacht Forum continues to run along side the trade show and is celebrating its 20th anniversary this year. Starting a day before the show on the 17th November and running for three days this professional conference for the large yacht world includes an 'Ask the Experts' session, brokerage debate and anniversary dinner.
