Alfa Laval wins SEK 60 million offshore order

Alfa Laval – a world leader in heat transfer, centrifugal separation and fluid handling – has won an order to supply Framo pumping systems to an oil platform in the North Sea. The order has a value of approximately SEK 60 million. It is booked in the Pumping Systems unit of the Marine Division, with deliveries scheduled for 2018.

The order comprises offshore fire water pumping systems to an oil platform in the North Sea.

“I am very pleased to announce this large order for our Framo pumping systems,” says Peter Leifland, President of the Marine Division. “In the offshore oil and gas industry it is vital to use reliable and safe equipment. This order proves that we can meet these high demands.”

Did you know that... fire water pumps on offshore oil platforms need to be very robust and reliable to work under extreme conditions – and that Framo pumping systems have been used in the offshore industry since the 1970's?

About Alfa Laval

Alfa Laval is a leading global provider of specialized products and engineering solutions based on its key technologies of heat transfer, separation and fluid handling.

The company's equipment, systems and services are dedicated to assisting customers in optimizing the performance of their processes. The solutions help them to heat, cool, separate and transport products in industries that produce food and beverages, chemicals and petrochemicals, pharmaceuticals, starch, sugar and ethanol.

Alfa Laval's products are also used in power plants, aboard ships, oil and gas exploration, in the mechanical engineering industry, in the mining industry and for wastewater treatment, as well as for comfort climate and refrigeration applications.
