

Bona Raw UV

Satisfy your customers desire for the fashionable, just-sanded look.

Bona[®]

For people who want to that just-sanded wood experience, Bona Raw gives them the next best thing – along with enduring protection and low maintenance.

The modern desire for the untreated look, verging on the unfinished, is hard to reconcile with the simultaneous demand for durability and low maintenance. Our technicians have squared that circle with Bona Raw, which retains not only the wood's natural look, but also its surface texture.

Floors coated with invisible Bona Raw feel much more like raw wood because the tiny natural undulations are not filled. The surface retains its distinctive texture, while the low-gloss appearance across a wide range of angles completes the natural, rustic experience.

While the wooden floor has the desired authentic look and feel, the protection that Bona Raw offers is ultra-modern and durable. Customers benefit from years of low-maintenance with long-lasting protection against abrasion and stains. They get the perfect combination of traditional artisanal looks and modern protective technology.

- Satisfies demand for untreated-look wooden floors
- New technology combines both look and feel
- Low maintenance
- Enduring protection against abrasion and stains
