Leadership change in Dometic's PMI function

The PMI function is essential for delivering the next phase of our long-term strategy. As part of this, a new leadership is required in our efforts to be world-class in Product Development and Innovation. As a consequence, we have together with Mattias Nordin, Head of Product Management & Innovation agreed that we are parting ways.

"I want to take the opportunity to thank Mattias for his contribution to Dometic's product development work. He has been instrumental in leading the work to successfully improve and organise our product generation work. I wish him all the best in his future career" says Roger Johansson, President and CEO.

Roger Johansson, will assume the role as acting head of the PMI function. The search for a new Head of PMI has been initiated.
