New Chief Financial Officer at LKAB

LKAB has appointed Stefan Loréhn as its new Chief Financial Officer (CFO), taking office in the first quarter of 2023.

"We have embarked on an unprecedented journey in Swedish industrial history, with major investments aimed at carbon-free products and processes. We look forward to welcoming Stefan Loréhn as CFO, where his extensive experience from heavy industry will be an important addition to the Group management team," says Jan Moström, President and CEO of LKAB.

Stefan Loréhn most recently served as Head of Corporate Finance/Vice CFO at the forestry company Holmen. Loréhn will take up his new position in the first quarter of 2023, replacing Peter Hansson, who will thus leave the Group management and move on to other assignment within LKAB.
