Elias Lindholm steps down as CTO of Nordnet – Michel Cupurdija and Aleksandar Sekulic appointed co-CTOs

Elias Lindholm has chosen to step down from his position as CTO of Nordnet. He joined Nordnet in 2019 and has served as CTO since 2021. Michel Cupurdija and Aleksandar Sekulic have been appointed as his successors and will assume joint leadership of Nordnet's tech organization as co-CTOs.

“For many years, Elias has been a key player in Nordnet’s development. He has driven a transformation that laid the technical foundation for Nordnet's growth journey in the 2020s. I want to thank him for his significant contributions and wish him the very best of luck in the future”, says Rasmus Järborg, CEO of Nordnet.

Michel Cupurdija and Aleksandar Sekulic joined Nordnet in 2014 and both have backgrounds in software engineering. Currently, Michel Cupurdija is Director of Engineering, while Aleksandar Sekulic serves as Area Engineering Manager for Securities Brokerage. Michel and Aleksandar have worked closely together for many years and previously served as co-Chief Architects for Nordnet’s tech platform.

“Aleks and Michel are two of our most respected and highly accomplished leaders in Tech. They embody technical excellence, committed leadership, and are held in high regard across the tech organization. I look forward to working closely with them in their new roles as co-CTOs,” says Rasmus Järborg, CEO of Nordnet.

Michel Cupurdija and Aleksandar Sekulic will assume their new roles on June 26, at which point they will also join Nordnet’s executive management team.
