EcoRub AB (publ):

EcoRub is a cleantech company. The company has a hybrid material TPRR - ThermoPlastic Recycled Rubber- which is patented. We mix thermoplast, rubber powder, copolymera and sometimes organic fibres as wood dust or straw to make a new material - ecological rubber - with unique performance. The properties are among other excellent weatherability, stress performance and the material can easily be recycled. The material is used for injection moulding with equipment used in plastics industry. We can also process the material to sheets and mats.
