

Kompletterande information till tidigare pressrelease: Finnplay signs AhaWorld's casino brands

Finnplay, the Finnish-based open gaming platform provider, today announced that it is to provide its licensed platform for the Swedish publicly listed AhaWorld AB's casino brands ahaCasino.com and MoboCasino.com.

The deal will see AhaWorld launch under Finnplay's platform which is licensed under the Malta Gaming Authority (MGA), providing access to a wide array of tier 1 games content, and access to future regulated markets such as the United Kingdom, where Finnplay also holds a platform license.

Martin Prantner, chief executive officer of The Finnplay Group, said: "The AhaWorld AB business is a progressive company, which operates several successful consumer facing casino and bingo gaming brands. Our team is delighted to provision our licensed technology platform, which provides casino games (4000+) from the major gaming studios as well as numerous global and localized 40+ payment integrations for their B2C brands ahaCasino.com and MoboCasino.com."

Krister Bergström, CEO ahaWorld (publ), commented: "We are happy to agree our partnership with Finnplay finally. During the 20+ years in the gaming business, I have followed the progress of Finnplay and Martin's work with the company closely. From my experiences previously working with both Boss Media and NYX, I know a lot about gaming platforms and back office solutions. We are therefore happy to be able to establish our future casino business in one of the most innovative platforms in the market right now."
