Item 16:

The Board of Directors proposes that the Annual General Meeting adopt the following guidelines for the remuneration of senior executives.

Basic principals

Salary and other terms of employment shall be such that the Group is always able to attract and retain competent senior executives at reasonable expense to the Company.

Remuneration to senior executives shall be determined in accordance with Collector's remuneration policy, which is based on the Finansinspektionen's (Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority) regulations on remuneration, national implementation of the EU directive on capital requirements for banks, as well as international practices with regard to sound remuneration structures.

Senior executives' remunerations consist of fixed salary, pension and other benefits. To avoid senior executives being encouraged to take unsound risks, no variable remuneration shall be paid. Consequently, fixed remuneration, combined with pension provisions and non-monetary benefits, constitute the employee's total remuneration. Furthermore, the Annual General Meeting may resolve to offer long-term incentive programmes, such share- or share price-related incentive programmes.

Fixed salary

Each senior executive shall be offered a fixed salary on market terms and based on the complexity of the job and the executive's experience, responsibility, competence and performance. The fixed salary is revised annually.

Variable salary

No variable salary (bonus) is to be paid to senior executives.

Non-monetary benefits

Non-monetary benefits shall facilitate the senior executives' work performance and correspond to what can be considered reasonable considering market practices.

Pensions

Each senior officer shall be offered a pension on market terms in the country where the senior officer has his or her permanent residence.

Termination and severance pay

Fixed salary during the period of notice and severance pay for the senior executives shall in total not exceed 24 fixed monthly salaries.

Remuneration to Board Members

To the extent that Board Members perform work outside the framework of their Board work, they shall be allowed to receive fees for such work. This remuneration should be on market terms and must be approved by the Board.

Deviations from the guidelines

In individual cases, the Board shall be entitled to deviate from these guidelines should there be special reasons to do so.

Item 18

The Board of Directors proposes that the Annual General Meeting authorize the Board, at most until the next Annual General Meeting, to issue new ordinary shares on one or more occasions, with or without deviation from shareholders' preferential rights and against payment in cash, in kind or by set-off. 10.0 percent of the share capital and votes, based on the current number of shares in the Company.

The reasons for the authorization and for issuance decisions being made deviating from shareholders' preferential rights is that the Board wishes to increase the Company's financial flexibility and enable rapid and efficient adaptation of the Company's capital structure to the established financial targets and such changes in capital adequacy rules that may be adopted at short notice. An issue deviating from shareholders' preferential rights also makes it possible for the Company to issue ordinary shares as payment in connection with possible corporate acquisitions that the Company may undertake. The subscription price shall be determined according to prevailing market conditions at the time the shares are issued.

To be valid, a resolution in accordance with the Board's proposal requires the approval of shareholders representing at least two thirds of both the votes and the shares represented at the Annual General Meeting.

Number of shares and votes

At the time of issuance of this notice, there were a total 102,690,502 shares and votes in the Company. The Company holds no treasury shares.
