Dustin CFO divests shares to exercise warrants in incentive program

Dustin CFO Johan Karlsson has divested 139 499 of the shares he holds in the company. The reduction was made to finance the subscription of new shares through warrants received via the long-term incentive program introduced at an extraordinary general meeting on January 30, 2015. After the divestment of shares and the subscription of new shares through warrants Johan Karlsson will hold a total of 282 734 shares in the company, which will correspond to the same amount of shares as before the divestment. The subscription of new shares through warrants will take place within two weeks.
