Changes to incentive program 2023/2026

Due to the changes in Evolution's share price during the implementation period of the incentive program resolved on by the extraordinary general meeting on 16 June 2023, the program is no longer in line with the intended conditions of the proposal to the extraordinary general meeting. The Board of Directors has thus decided to not proceed with the incentive program. The Board of Directors will work together with the shareholders to create a program in order to appropriately incentivize the employees of the company.
