Aptahem Announces English-Language Webinar on Strategic Direction and Planned U.S. Listing

Aptahem AB (publ) ("Aptahem" or the "Company"), a clinical-stage biotech company listed on the Spotlight Stock Market that develops RNA-based treatments for acute thrombo-inflammatory conditions, today announces that it will host an English-language investor webinar on Wednesday, October 29, 2025, at 3:00 p.m. CEST.

The purpose of the webinar is to provide an overview of Aptahem's strategic direction, ongoing preparations for a planned U.S. listing, and recent key regulatory developments. The English-language event follows the Company's Swedish webinar held on September 22 and is intended to make Aptahem's current strategic initiatives accessible to a broader international audience. It will, in broad terms, cover the same topics presented during the Swedish-language webinar did.

Date & Time: Wednesday, October 29, 2025, at 3:00-4:00 p.m. CEST

Language: English

Presenter: Mikael Lindstam, CEO, Aptahem AB

Agenda and key topics:

During the webinar, CEO Mikael Lindstam will provide an update on the Company's progress toward a planned U.S. listing and discuss the ongoing work to strengthen Aptahem's financial, regulatory, and structural readiness. Key topics will include:

- The strategic rationale and expected benefits of a U.S. listing.
- Progress in the transition to IFRS accounting and the preparation for U.S. auditor engagement.
- Recent regulatory initiatives, including the company's application to the FDA's PreCheck Program, which aims to support faster and higher-quality regulatory processes.
- Expansion of Aptahem's U.S. patent portfolio through a provisional application covering new indication areas for the lead candidate Apt-1.
- Next steps in advancing toward the planned Phase 2 clinical program.

Participants will have the opportunity to submit questions during the event. The webinar will be recorded and made available on the Company's website following the event.

CEO Mikael Lindstam comments

"As we continue to advance Aptahem's strategic transformation, it is important for us to communicate our direction clearly to all stakeholders, who already are or will be interested in our Company. This webinar provides an opportunity to present our progress and future ambitions to an international audience, as we work to create the foundation for Aptahem's next development phase and planned U.S. listing."
