

Service expansion for Oxfordshire Porsche specialist Autofarm

BICESTER - With increased demand for its services, independent Porsche specialist Autofarm has further expanded its staff this month, hiring Anthony Wilds to take the role of service manager

"I have a history working in car parts for nearly 15 years now, and I knew Autofarm's co-owner Steve Wood from my time racing," says Wilds. "So when a position came up and he asked me if I wanted it I said 'yes!'"

Son of British ex sportscar and F1 driver Mike Wilds - who raced Porsches throughout his career including an appearance at the Le Mans 24 Hours in a 935 in 1981 - Anthony has grown up a car enthusiast and will bring his passion to the day-to-day running of Autofarm. Wilds aims to bring his experience to expand Autofarm's offering.

"The other side of it will come in the future. Steve and I hope to add a part to Autofarm that revolves around trackdays and coaching. I do a lot of instructing on track days for race drivers, and because I've done a lot with Porsche Club UK, we're planning to offer a service around that to our customers."

Press Contact

Elan PR Ltd
Nick Bailey
t: 44 (0) 1295 780411
m: 44 (0) 7813 956664
e: nick@elan-pr.com

About Autofarm

Based in Weston on the Green, Oxon, Autofarm www.autofarm.co.uk is a leading independent Porsche specialist. Autofarm has over 40 years' experience of maintaining, preparing, racing, restoring and selling Porsches of all ages. The Oxfordshire based workshop offers servicing using accredited diagnostics equipment, sales, parts, race preparation, restoration and engine rebuild capability. Its extensive road, race and rally engine experience led the company to develop Silsleeve, an innovative and cost effective method of repairing damaged modern Porsche cylinder blocks. Autofarm enjoys close links with Porsche and the leading Porsche owners' clubs. In 2015, Mikey Wastie and Steve Wood became the new owners of Autofarm.