

We see sparks!

When Elektroimportøren now has decided to use BizView, it is yet another example of how BizView constantly strengthens our position in the Norwegian retail market. Together with our strategic partner, bWise, we are happy to welcome Norway's leading electrical retailer and wholesaler to the ever growing BizView family.

"bWise is one of the leading experts on BI and CPM in Norway, and as partner to BizView we can now offer our customers the best solutions in the field of Planning," said Kristoffer Danielsen, head of "Budget and Forecasting" at bWise. Kristoffer says it is important to retail customers to control and optimize planning functions and processes. "With BizView for Qlik, we can now offer the most efficient planning solutions in the market. There is huge demand for flexible, cost-effective and scalable systems for planning. With BizView we have found a product that fully covers these criteria."

CEO of BizView Norway, Lars Fjellbirkeland, says the company expect continued strong growth in Retail market in the future. "To partner with the best expertise in the market is the safest way for us to succeed," says Lars. "BizView's mantra is "Planning and reporting the way you want it. Faster.", a goal you can reach only if you combine the best system with the best implementation expertise".

"Our goals are ambitious and to reach our goals we need everyone at Elektroimportøren to fully understand what is expected in their daily work. But is just as vital that we implement the best IT solutions, and BizView for Qlik gives us the comfort and flexibility necessary to succeed," says Petter Bjørnstad at Elektroimportøren.
