

New works manager for Serneke in Eskilstuna and Västerås

Serneke is continuing its initiative in the Mälardalen Valley, recruiting more people to key positions. Effective from May, Patrik Ahlbin is the new works manager responsible for bringing in new projects for the Company's construction operations in the Eskilstuna/Västerås area.

Serneke is currently in the process of building the new Campus Eskilstuna, which will host 1,000 students and 300 employees of Mälardalen University. For the past few weeks, the person responsible for this major project, and for securing new assignments for Serneke in this expansive region, has been Patrik Ahlbin.

"Serneke is a highly interesting company, and I felt I wanted to be a part of that. I look forward to establishing and developing Serneke in the Eskilstuna and Västerås markets," says Patrik Ahlbin.

Patrik joins the Company from a position at with WSP Management, but has extensive experience from several companies in the industry. He has participated in a number of construction projects in both Västerås and Eskilstuna, including the new Stiga Sports Arena and the new Munktellbadet swimming facility, which are to replace the former sport hall and swimming pool where Campus Eskilstuna is now emerging.

"It is with great pleasure that I welcome Patrik to Serneke! I now look forward to joining forces with him with to continue strengthening our presence in the northern and eastern Mälardalen Valley," says Daniel Åstenius, CEO of Serneke Construction.
