Eagle Filters' respirators pass COVID-19 certification tests

Eagle Filters' respirator products have passed the tests required for COVID-19 certification, performed at a European certification laboratory. Passing of the COVID-19 certification test enables the use of respirators in healthcare in EU.

Having passed the above mentioned tests Eagle Filters can now start respirator deliveries to customers.

Eagle Filters respirators have earlier passed the demanding FFP3 -level efficiency tests at VTT Technical Research Centre of Finland and the process of applying for CE certification is ongoing. In the current market situation, the CE certification in an authorized laboratory may take longer than normally.

Managing Director, Juha Kariluoto, Eagle Filters: "We are very happy that our products have passed the Covid-19 tests and being able to deliver products to customers. We will continue to develop our product properties and our own melt-blown production as well as in-house testing capacity will give us an excellent platform to be competitive on the world market in the long run"

Loudspring owns 80% of Eagle Filters.
