Correction: Changes in Brighter's board.

In the press release published earlier tonight at 20:23 CET with the headline "Changes in Brighter's board", two words was missing in the first sentence.

The published text states "Board members Tove Andersson, Jan Stålemark and Emanuel Lipschütz resign from the board with immediate effect due to disagreement about how the company should be operated going forward".

The correct wording should be "Board members Tove Andersson, Jan Stålemark and Emanuel Lipschütz resign from the board with immediate effect due to disagreement about how the company should be operated and focus going forward."

The company hereby publishes a correction of the press release:

Changes in Brighter's board

Board members Tove Andersson, Jan Stålemark and Emanuel Lipschütz resign from the board with immediate effect due to disagreement about how the company should be operated and focus going forward. Due to this, the company will convene an extraordinary shareholders meeting shortly to appoint an interim board.

The members' decision is not linked to the previously announced preliminary investigation into the released Chairman of the Board. Truls Sjöstedt will remain as Chairman until the extraordinary shareholders meeting for practical matters concerning the board, but in connection to this he leaves the board seat at the disposal of the meeting.

"The company's operational work continues according to plan, but there will be no new board decisions until after the extraordinary general meeting," says Henrik Norström, CEO of Brighter.
