

Brighter's Actiste® Receives Telecommunication Approval in Qatar

Brighter AB (Publ.) announced today that the Qatari Communications Regulatory Authority has granted Actiste® type approval for the radio transmission element in the device. With this approval, both Actiste® (with insulin injection) and Actiste® Mini have now received telecom use approval in Qatar.

On 18 February 2021, Brighter announced that the company had signed a five-year distribution agreement with Al Danah Medical Company in Qatar regarding Brighter's pioneering product portfolio for diabetes management Actiste® ("Actiste Service").

"This approval is another significant commercialization milestone for the Actiste® portfolio in Qatar. We are very pleased that both Actiste® and Actiste® Mini have received approval for telecom use and we remain focused on completing all the remaining commercialization preparations to bring Brighter's diabetes management platform to patients in need," comments Christer Trägårdh, acting CEO of Brighter AB.
