

Brighter's subsidiary Nectarine Health signs an agreement with Peace of Mind Aging expanding trials in the U.S.

Brighter AB (publ) announced today that its subsidiary Nectarine Health has entered into an agreement with Peace of Mind Aging & Wellness Specialists, PLLC, an in-home care provider targeting seniors in the U.S.

Under the agreement, Peace of Mind Aging will recruit friendly users to join the ongoing trial of the Nectarine Health™ at Home remote care system. This marks yet another agreement with a potential long-term partner in the space of health and wellness for seniors still living at home, and a possible further channel for expansion in the U.S. market.

"Peace of Mind Aging is focused on geriatrics care and provides healthcare in people's homes focusing on holistic wellness-based health and taking into account all aspects of the patients' well-being. We at Nectarine Health and Dr. Nebel believe in proactive care and empowering seniors to lead more independent lifestyles. I am pleased to see that our commercialisation efforts are gaining pace with another product trial agreement signed" says Matthias Tietze, CEO of Nectarine Health.

"Nectarine Health offers a novel solution to aging in place by giving reassurance to both clients and their family. It provides me with greater insight into the patient's routine and deviation from the same. The comprehensive features are a game-changer for safety at home" says Dr Nebel, founder and CEO of Peace of Mind Aging.

About Nectarine Health

Nectarine Health™ at Home is an AI-based well-being technology that is built for life-loving independence. It aims to empower seniors to live independently at home for longer, promoting feelings of safety and security, knowing that help is always at hand. Nectarine Health is an international company with a team of 40 and headquarters in Gamla Stan, Stockholm, Sweden. We believe that better and more intelligent tools can help society improve and maintain the quality of care for its ageing global population.

About Peace of Mind Aging

Peace of Mind Geriatric Services specializes in in-home geriatric care, conducted by your primary physician. Unlike other practices and agencies where many levels of care are conducted outside of the home with professionals of less knowledge and skill, Peace of Mind gives you Peace of Mind by putting your care into the hands of a qualified physician.
