

The district court decides that Brighter's corporate restructuring must end

Since November 2, 2022, Brighter AB (Publ.) ("the Company") has been in corporate restructuring with the aim of giving the Company time to negotiate a long-term financial solution and implement operational and organizational changes for profitable growth. The district court has today decided that the reconstruction must cease immediately and the board of Brighter AB will now evaluate the situation.

Overall, the district court assesses that Brighter AB - in light of discussions and presentations in connection with the creditors' meeting - has not shown that there is a well-founded reason to assume that the viability of the business can be secured through the reconstruction. Furthermore, the district court assesses that an upcoming reconstruction plan does not have the prerequisites to be adopted and determined. The purpose of the company restructuring cannot therefore be assumed to have been achieved. The company restructuring must therefore cease and the matter be written off.

Further information will be published after the board's evaluation of the situation.
