Attendo has completed the acquisition of Främja AB - grows within LSS under the Unika brand

Attendo announced in June 2025 that an agreement had been signed to acquire Främja AB (Främja). The acquisition is another step in Attendo's growth journey and investment in LSS operations under the Unika brand. Together with Främja, Unika gains additional breadth, expertise and commitment in the work of offering and developing high-quality functional care. The acquisition is now completed.

Attendo operates its LSS operations under the Unika brand, which was launched in September 2024 after the merger with Team Olivia. With the acquisition of Främja, Unika's offering is complemented by serviced housing within LSS in, among other places, the growing metropolitan regions of Stockholm, Gothenburg and Uppsala in attractive, central locations. Främja also conducts daily operations within LSS in Stockholm.

“We welcome our new colleagues at Främja and look forward to continuing to develop and run a value-driven business together where the individual is the chief person their own life,” says Emelie Mossberg, Segment Manager for LSS in Attendo Scandinavia, and responsible for Unika.

The deal does not include Främja's Norwegian operations.

About Unika

Unika brings together around 220 units (the 16 units from Främja included) within functional support throughout Sweden. The mission is to create a safe and developing environment for a meaningful and independent life. Unika offers most interventions within LSS such as group homes, daily activities, children's homes as well as short-term housing and accompaniment around Sweden. The common denominator for all Unika activities is to always start from the individual's abilities with a commitment to quality and individually adapted solutions. Unika also offers niche activities within co-morbidity, Prader-Willi syndrome and group homes with a sign language environment.
