

Press Release

Date: July 13rd, 2022

Subject: 5 Tips for planning your next vacation in Thailand. It's never too late for summer!

Many of us enjoy the summer holiday and you might wonder where to spend the next journey. Or even prolong summer vacation, Thailand will be a good choice for you and your love ones. As you may know Thailand is all-year-round destinations, here we gather some interesting tips and ideas what to do in Thailand for your next vacation.

1. Never too late for a Summer Holiday in Thailand

Many advantages of traveling to Thailand during summer holiday include less tourists, price friendly for hotel and flight. Travelers can easily book the flight and accommodations with no hassle or advance booking. Moreover, when it is less crowded you can enjoy the surroundings even more. Islands like Koh Samed in Rayong is perfect for families, couples or even backpackers. Since different beaches in Koh Samed are unique, you can find calm and quiet beaches or a more vibrant and fun atmosphere. Phuket is a surfing heaven for summer time and Koh Mai Ton is still a summer friendly island during August and September.

2. Bangkok, New things await for you to discover.

Bangkok is one of the world's 's most vibrant cities. After the awakening of the pandemic, Bangkok came back to life with so many new things happening. This is definitely one of the reasons why Bangkok retains "The Best City". Travelers are familiar with major tourist attractions in Bangkok including historical or religious sites but Bangkok has more new things to offer. Do you know that there's a new street night bazaar, Jodd Fairs in town and city's metro forest where you can stroll down the floating wooden walkway and learn about our native trees.

3. Thailand, the family paradise with all activities for all generation

Thailand is an ideal destination for families. Most destinations offer activities that are suitable for the whole family. While father can go for an 18-hole round of golf, mother can relax and pamper herself at Thai's top wellness retreat. Children can learn Thai crafting or local Thai farming. One of the most popular destinations for families is Hua Hin, a beach resort town and is focused on food, fun, and relaxing family-oriented attractions. Take a foodie tour to sample all the native delicacies. Splash around at the Black Mountain Water Park. Stroll through the Cicada Market for a shopping experience unlike any other. The possibilities are endless.

4. Best time to visit Koh Samui – Koh Phangan – Koh Tao is summer!

These 3 islands on the gulf of Thailand are the best during the summer time. The water is crystal clear and the sun always shines. Koh Samui, Koh Phangan and Koh Tao are neighboring islands that can be easily traveled to each other. In fact, these three islands are good to visit until end of September. Koh Samui has everything you need from vibrant island life to wellness holidays. Koh Phangan has a more laid back atmosphere and is a popular destination for some adventure and yoga retreat while Koh Tao is perfect for diving lovers. The popular national parks in the area such as Khao Sok, Mu Ko Ang Thong and Khao Sok are also welcome to travelers.

5. Beach and more

Most travelers who visit Thailand plan their vacation because of the sun and ocean breeze. Though Thailand has more to offer than just beautiful beaches and islands, not to mention Thai's delicious food. The country is filled with long heritage and rich culture. We recommend combining both of the best worlds while visiting Thailand next time. Just an hour by plane from Bangkok or straight flight from Phuket, travelers can visit one of the most cultural cities, Chiang Mai. Not only the city has a deep root in its history but it is also filled with surprising modern twists. Thanks to the relaxed atmosphere and the recent development to become an eco-friendly city, Chiang Mai draws backpackers and travelers of all kinds, not to mention golfers, retirees and expats and regularly featured in lists of the world's best cities to visit

For more inspiration and traveling to Thailand information, please visit www.thecoloursofthailand.com