NetEnt's jackpots pay out €7.6m to three winners

NetEnt, the leading digital entertainment company, is celebrating the start of 2016 with a bang as three European-based players have won life-changing sums in quick succession, becoming instant multi-millionaires.

On Friday, January 15th, a Finnish player in his 40s won €3.4m with Paf.com by betting just €4 on NetEnt's popular Mega Fortune Dreams.

Two days later, on January 17th, a Casumo player from the UK scooped nearly €2.7m on NetEnt's Mega Fortune. Then, on January 19th, the lucky jackpot baton was passed on to VeraJohn where a Norwegian player bet €0.4 and scooped €1.6m on NetEnt's Hall of Gods.

NetEnt games have throughout the years paid out more than €250m, turning 55 players from ten countries into overnight millionaires.

Simon Hammon, Chief Product Officer of NetEnt, said: "NetEnt's games are designed to excite, entertain and reward our players so we are thrilled to have created three new multi-millionaires in less than a week. We're already looking forward to the next big jackpot win – at this rate, I'm sure it will drop soon."
