Award winning online gaming operator Mr Green broadens its offering with bespoke bingo and keno products. In July, Mr Green introduced its unique One-Minute-Keno and now a bespoke bingo product is released.

With the chance of winning £100,000 every minute the One-Minute Keno is unique of its kind. Mr Green's bingo product offer classic features like 90, 80 and 75 ball bingo, chat functionality between players and a wide range of side games.

The One-Minute-Keno is currently live in the UK and Sweden, whilst the bingo product is initially offered in the UK. Both products will be rolled out across other markets over the coming months.

Jesper Kärrbrink, CEO Mr Green Ltd commented;

"Number games are a welcome addition to our entertainment portfolio, especially important for continuing to build brand awareness and attraction in the UK, one of our key markets. Through number games we can reach a whole new audience and we look forward to following the interest of 'One-minute Keno' as well as the bingo product in the UK and other markets."

Benedict McDonagh, Head of Gaming Mr Green Ltd commented;

"One of our main goals for our bingo product was to make it as user-friendly as possible while retaining many of the key elements already appreciated by bingo players. We will continuously work to perfect both exciting products based on our player's preferences."

The keno and bingo products were developed in collaboration with online game provider CozyGames.

Sreeram Vanga, CEO CozyGames commented;

"We at CozyGames are very excited by the opportunity to work with Mr Green, one of the most well-known online gaming operators with a fantastic brand that truly stands out from the competition."
