GomSpace Signs 24.4 MSEK Contract with Unseenlabs

Unseenlabs extends its existing cube satellites constellation.

Today, GomSpace has signed an additional contract with Unseenlabs to deliver two new CubeSats, expanding the service capacity of the current generation already in orbit. The contract value is 2.2 MEUR (24.4 MSEK), and the satellites are scheduled for delivery in 2027.

These satellites will be similar to the fourteen CubeSats previously ordered in 2022, 2024, and 2025.

Oliver Schieve, VP of Satellite Systems Business Unit at GomSpace, states: "We are proud to once again be selected by Unseenlabs to deliver two additional 8U satellites based on GomSpace's standard platforms and Unseenlabs' payload. Seeing Unseenlabs continue to grow and strengthen their business confirms that GomSpace's long-term focus on reliability and strategic partnership is the right approach."

Jonathan Galic, co-founder, President, and CTO of Unseenlabs adds: "Continuing to build our infrastructure on the same proven platform greatly benefits Unseenlabs and allows us to reinforce further the persistence of our services"

This contract reinforces GomSpace's market outlook, supports the company's annual objectives, and contributes to building a solid backlog for 2026.
