Raketeq repays its previous loan facility in full

As a final step in optimising its capital structure post-IPO, Raketeq has repaid the outstanding debt of EUR 7.7 million from its previous loan facility. As a result of the payment, Raketeq decreases its financial expenses by approximately EUR 0.2 million per quarter.

Since Raketeq's IPO in 2018, the company has prioritised optimising its capital structure by settling the existing loan and securing more favourable bank financing. The company entered an agreement with Swedbank in December for a revolving credit facility of EUR 10 million.

Andreas Kovacs, CFO at Raketeq, commented: "To have successfully cleared our former loan facility is a milestone for Raketeq's finance strategy. We now have optimal conditions to carry out additional acquisitions, with lower financial expenses over time".
