

StarVR Corporation delisted from Taipei Exchange

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN (9 November 2018)

StarVR Corporation announced today that the board of directors intends to apply for delisting of the StarVR share from the Taipei Exchange Emerging Markets board. The market situation in the industry and the company's business plan and strategy were cited as the reasons for the decision. Delisting is expected to increase business flexibility.

Starbreeze owns a minority interest in StarVR Corporation, with 33 percent of equity. The decision will have no impact on Starbreeze AB's accounts. Measured using the equity method, the holding in StarVR Corporation was carried at SEK 27.3 million as of 30 September 2018. Starbreeze will continue to retain existing IP rights to the StarVR One VR headset and related technologies.

Starbreeze has been informed that StarVR Corporation will apply for delisting from the Taipei Exchange in accordance with applicable regulations. The company states that the Taipei Exchange will determine and announce the last day of trading in the StarVR share. StarVR Corporation intends to convene an extraordinary general meeting on 27 December 2018 to decide whether StarVR Corporation should cease to be a public company.
