"I am very proud of becoming a large shareholder in Episurf Medical, a company which really has taken a good position in its industry. We have a world-leading technique and very good results and we are in a situation where we just have accessed the market, and we have been very well received. We are currently building our clinical evidence supporting our technology, and this forms the basis for our future. I am acquiring these shares because I believe there is a significant long-term potential in Episurf Medical. Further, I think that the team in place, in combination with the company's technology and opportunities, constitutes a highly interesting investment opportunity for me", says Pål Ryfors, CEO Episurf Medical.

"We are happy for the fact that Pål Ryfors very clearly has signaled his interest in building a significant long-term shareholding in the company" says Saeid Esmaeilzadeh, Chairman of Serendipity Ixora and board member in Episurf Medical.

In order to align the interests of the CEO with Episurf Medical's shareholders, Serendipity Ixora has provided financing at negotiated terms.
